CASH PLAN ADOPTED.

The postage law, which goes into operation 1st of January, 1875, requires prepayment on all newspapers sent through the mails be ond the limits of the counties in which they are published. We have, therefore, determined to adopt the CASH PLAN for all subscriptions. While avoiding the losses, tardy payments and ex-penses of collection incident to the credit system, we will be required to prepay the postage.

The change determined upon will, therefore, prove beneficial to both subscribers and publisher. The tormer will be relieved of the postage tax whilst the latter will be enabled to simplify the operations of his business and to improve the facilities for conducting it.

No name will be entered unless the subscription is paid for in advance.

During the past few months every subscriber in arrears has been furnished, through the mails, with a statement of his account. Many have responded with remittances discharging their liabilities and paying in advance for the current year. We appeal urgently to those who have not made a similar response to do so without that and always after the first of January 1875. further delay, as after the first of January, 1875, we will commence to discontinue the paper to those who have not paid in advance. The time within which all in arrears can close up the balances due and make an advance payment is ample, and we flatter ourselves that but few names will be dropped.

BOARDING SCHOOL SENSATION. A telegram to the New York Herald from Philadelphia December 2, says : "If the Quaker city is anything it is hightoned. It has more blue blood than Boston, and is quite as much given over to a regard for the proprieties; hence society is easily shocked. Just now we are shocked. The gossips are in clover. Philadelphia is an educational centre. We have all kinds of schools; good bad and indifferent. But we are, per haps, most noted for a number of institutions denominated "finishing schools" for girls. Of course such institutions are in all respects first class, beyond the suspicion of anything going amiss within their vestal halls. Well, there has been a lively commotion in a certain one part many blocks from Suspicion of the Heart, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, despondency, and know it to be the best later offered to the public."—M. H. L. Lyon, Bellefontaine, Ga. not many blocks from Spruce street nevertheless. Not very long ago an elderly gentleman drove up to the door, disembarked his trunks and introduced his "daughter" to the matron. The daughter was tall and handsome, tastefully dressed, and promised to be quite a popular pupil. In fact just such a one as the preceptress could take a pride in sending forth to the world finished for society. So when the latter wanted to put her at the school she was gladly accepted, both for these reasons and for pecu-niary consideration. Then the father said good-bye, and after leaving special instructions in regard to the care over the young girl drove away. Next a room was selected for her company, of course, with the usual number of room mates. Several days passed by; the newcomer was growing very popular with the other girls as well as with the teachers. Her wardrobe was expensive, her manuers attractive, and there seemed to be a certain charm about her that all recognized, but none could explain. She herself seem ed happy, her disposition was pleasant, and she laughed a great deal. Sometimes the girls couldn't understand why she laughed, but a slight explanation satisfied. Well, a month passed away, the young lady was a great favorite, hardly less so with all the girls than with her room mates, and she was becoming quite accompished. But one day she sent a trunk off for some reason and pretty soon she left quietly herself. Most of the household were astonished, and immediately the alarming story spread that she wasn ta girl at all. The teacher tried to hush it up, but it wouldn't be hushed. The room mates of the decamped young lady were besieged for information. Then the story got out of the school, it has been verified, and the result has been a perceptible commotion in society circles. There is, I am told, no doubt that a bold and audacious fraud has been perpetrated on the managers of the school and a smooth faced youth of about twenty introduced into the boudoirs of a fashionable young ladies' seminary. Any wonder a sensation should ensue? The scamp has not been captured and probably will not be owing to a desire to avoid publicity is the matter on the part of the discreet, but nevertheless greatly irritated, matrons of the school. I have not been able to get the full particulars, and it would be improper to mention the name of the school; but enough has leaked out to warrant this much, and if there are any further developments you may be further posted. This is given on the best authority. The room mates are left in a particularly embarrassing position;

IN SEARCH OF THEIR FATHER. - There arrived here yesterday two little girls, named respectively Mollie and Lizzie Kelly, in search of their father, from whom they had been separated since their babyhood. What is remarkable is the fact that though the oldest is but seven and the youngest but six years of age they had travelled from San Francisco, Cali fornia, a distance of three thousand miles and upwards, by themselves. They are both very handsome and intelligent little girls. Their history, as related by themselves, is exceedingly interesting. Shortly after the birth of the younger their mother died, and their paternal relative baving joined the U.S. army, they were taken in charge by the Sisters of Charity in San Francisco, and by them carefully raised to their present age. Their only recollection of their father was that his name was Kelly. His first name they had no knowledge of, but learning that he was living near Richmond ever offered in this market, which he is prepared they were supplied with a photograph by which they might identify him. Money was furnished by some benevolent persons to pay their fare here, and relying on the kindness of the conductors on the railroads traversing the entire continent, they started on their mission in search of their father just one week ago. At Huntington the little waifs were taken in charge by Major N. H. Hotchkiss, by whom they were treated with the most generous and fatherly kindness. He brought them to this city, and by the aid of the Sisters of Charity and Col. Bishon, of the Exchange Hotel, they and Col. Bishop, of the Exchange Hetel, they succeeded in finding their long-lost father. DRUGS AND CHEMICALS. MONS The Symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stemach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, howels in general costive, sometimes afternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done, offen complaining of weakness, debility, and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms aftered the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.
